

Snowshoe Hike

Overview

Assist a group of individuals with physical or neurodivergent challenges to enjoy a day out in the mountains. The team will venture out on a snowy trail and stop for lunch in a scenic/convenient location. Your day will start with training on how to assist adaptive guests. Led by an RMA snowshoeing guide, your team will assist and interact with guests of varying abilities. The difficulty of the trail will be determined by the ability of your group and the adaptive guests.

Event Details

Your staff will be partnered with adaptive guests and RMA instructors or trained volunteers. Prior to the start of your day, training will be provided on how to assist each guest. Your team will assist a group of around 10-20 adaptive guests. Guests will vary in age and abilities. Guests may be living with neurodivergence or physical challenges. The RMA guests attending will be determined by your group size and ability. For this type of booking we often work with disability groups who are looking to enjoy a day in the mountains and take part in an activity they would not normally partake in. Disability groups may attend the activity with caregivers or staff members who will be on hand to assist, as needed.
